Basic legal frameworks arising from the Standards for Habilitation Proceeding and Proceedings for the Appointment of Professors of the Slovak Accreditation Agency for Higher Education

1. The institution has a field of habilitation proceedings and inauguration proceedings defined by its name and content. The institution guarantees that the content is as close as possible to the field of study or both fields of study to which it is assigned.
2. The institution is entitled to design, deliver and modify third-level study programmes in the field of study to which the field of habilitation proceedings and inauguration proceedings is assigned.
3. If the field of habilitation proceedings and inauguration proceedings is assigned to two fields of study, the institution has the above-mentioned rights in both fields of study.
4. The institution employs at least five designated persons for fixed weekly working hours who are responsible for the development and quality assurance of the field of habilitation proceedings and inauguration proceedings. These persons are involved in scientific or artistic activities of the institution within the field of habilitation proceedings and inauguration proceedings, or in a related field. Of these persons, at least two are in the position of professor with the title “professor”, and the others are at least in the position of associate professor with the title “associate professor”. Each of these persons may be responsible for the development and quality assurance of at most one field of habilitation proceedings and inauguration proceedings at only one higher education institution in the Slovak Republic
5. The institution carries out long-term and continuous research, artistic and other activities in the field of habilitation proceedings and inauguration proceedings, the intensity and extent of which corresponds to the nature of these proceedings and whose results are on an internationally significant level.
6. The institution demonstrates the existence of a critical mass for research and art and a high level of quality in research, artistic and other activities by its right to design, deliver and modify third-level programmes in at least half of the fields of study in which the institution provides higher education.
